3

Strategic Pillars

Entertainment value, AI-powered technology, and enhanced monetization form the foundation of our growth strategy.

Strong Revenue and Profitability Across the Board

Q1 2026 delivered outstanding financial results, with double-digit growth across all key metrics. Net income surged 82.8% YoY, driven by operating leverage, disciplined cost management, and growing advertising revenue. Diluted EPS nearly doubled, underscoring the quality of earnings and the strength of the business model.

Metric	Q1 2025	Q1 2026	YoY Growth
Revenue	$10,543M	$12,250M	+16.2%
Operating Income	$3,347M	$3,957M	+18.0%
Net Income	$2,890M	$5,283M	+82.8%
Diluted EPS	$0.66	$1.23	+86.4%

Reaching New Heights in Member Engagement

Our primary internal engagement metric reached an all-time high in Q1 2026. Members are spending significantly more time on the platform, reflecting the growing depth and breadth of our content library, improved discovery tools, and a more compelling overall experience. This "stickiness" is a leading indicator of retention and long-term subscriber value.

77.4 Minutes/DAU

Average time spent per Daily Active User in Q1 2026 — a new record high for the platform, up from 64.7 minutes in Q4 2024.

+19.6% Engagement Growth

Quarter-over-quarter improvement from Q4 2024 to Q1 2026, reflecting the cumulative impact of content investment and product improvements.

Deepening Retention

Higher engagement correlates strongly with reduced churn and increased lifetime value, reinforcing the flywheel of content investment and subscriber loyalty.

Delivering More Entertainment Value

Content remains the core of ViewFlix's value proposition. In Q1 2026, we expanded our entertainment universe beyond traditional scripted originals — investing in live events, podcasts, and gaming to meet members wherever they are and deepen engagement across demographics.

Video Podcasts Expansion

ViewFlix is scaling its video podcast portfolio, bringing popular audio-first creators to a visual format and attracting new audience segments who prefer long-form, conversational content.

Regional Live Events

Live sports and events — including the World Baseball Classic in Japan — are driving incremental subscriber acquisition in key international markets and boosting engagement during live windows.

Standalone Kids Gaming App

A new dedicated gaming app for children extends the ViewFlix brand into interactive entertainment, creating a family-friendly ecosystem that increases household penetration and reduces churn among family plans.

Leveraging Technology for Service Improvement

ViewFlix is investing aggressively in AI and product innovation to enhance both the creator and member experience. From generative AI tools for content production to a redesigned mobile interface, technology is a force multiplier for every aspect of our business.

InterPositive Acquisition

The acquisition of InterPositive brings cutting-edge GenAI capabilities in-house, empowering creators with tools for script analysis, visual effects, localization, and post-production — reducing costs and accelerating content pipelines.

- AI-assisted content creation workflows
- Faster localization for global markets
- Reduced production timelines and costs

Mobile Experience Redesign

A comprehensive mobile redesign launched in Q1 2026, featuring a new vertical video format optimized for on-the-go viewing. The update improves navigation, discovery, and personalization — directly contributing to the engagement gains seen this quarter.

- Vertical video for mobile-first users
- Improved recommendation algorithms
- Streamlined UI and faster load times

 AI-powered personalized recommendations continue to drive discovery, with early data showing a measurable lift in content completion rates and session length.

Improving Monetization Across Every Tier

ViewFlix's monetization strategy is gaining meaningful traction. Recent price adjustments have been well-received by members, reflecting the strength of our value proposition. Meanwhile, our advertising business is on track to become a $3 billion annual revenue stream — doubling year-over-year.

$3B

2026 Ad Revenue Target

Advertising revenue is on track to double YoY, driven by growing ad-tier adoption and new format innovation.

2x

Ad Revenue Growth

Year-over-year doubling reflects strong advertiser demand and an expanding addressable audience on the ad-supported tier.

31.5%

Full-Year Op Margin

Projected operating margin for 2026, reflecting the compounding benefits of scale, pricing power, and ad revenue growth.

New Ad Format Opportunities

ViewFlix is actively exploring next-generation ad formats — including interactive ads, shoppable content integrations, and premium sponsorship packages — to enhance revenue per impression and advertiser ROI without compromising the member experience.

Pricing Power Validated

Recent price changes were met with minimal churn impact, confirming that members perceive strong value in the ViewFlix offering. This pricing discipline supports margin expansion and funds continued content and technology investment.

Competitive Dynamics in a Maturing Market

The global streaming landscape remains intensely competitive, but ViewFlix is well-positioned. Premium SVOD growth has matured to single digits industry-wide, yet ViewFlix continues to outpace the market through differentiated content, superior engagement, and a diversified revenue model.

HBO Max — Strong DAU Growth

HBO Max reported +29.5% YoY growth in daily active users in Q1 2026, reflecting the impact of high-profile content releases and bundling strategies. Competition for engagement remains fierce.

Roku — Platform Revenue Surge

Roku's platform revenue grew 28% YoY, driven by advertising and subscription revenue sharing. The rise of connected TV platforms is reshaping distribution economics across the industry.

Premium SVOD — Maturing Growth

Industry-wide premium SVOD subscriber growth has slowed to +7% in 2025, with churn rates stabilizing. The focus has shifted from pure subscriber acquisition to engagement depth and revenue per user.

Continued Momentum Into Q2 and Beyond

ViewFlix enters Q2 2026 with strong momentum, a robust content slate, and a diversified revenue base. Our forecast reflects confidence in continued top-line growth and margin expansion, supported by the strategic initiatives underway across content, technology, and monetization.

Metric	Q1 2026 Actual	Q2 2026 Forecast
Revenue	$12,250M	$12,574M
Operating Income	$3,957M	$4,105M
YoY Revenue Growth	+16.2%	+13.5%

📄 Full-Year 2026 Guidance: Revenue of $50.7–$51.7 billion with an operating margin of approximately 31.5%.

CONCLUSION

Positioned for Sustained Leadership

ViewFlix enters the remainder of 2026 from a position of strength. With record engagement, accelerating profitability, and three reinforcing strategic pillars, the company has a clear roadmap for delivering long-term value to members, creators, and shareholders alike.

Strong Competitive Position

Record engagement metrics, differentiated content, and a diversified revenue model give ViewFlix a durable competitive advantage in a maturing market.

Long Runway for Growth

International expansion, ad-tier scaling, gaming, and live events represent significant untapped revenue opportunities that will drive growth well beyond 2026.

Shareholder Commitment

With a projected 31.5% operating margin and $50B+ revenue trajectory, ViewFlix is committed to delivering exceptional returns while continuing to invest in the future of entertainment.

Our focus remains on continuous improvement, staying ahead of the competition, and delivering the exceptional entertainment experience that members around the world have come to expect from ViewFlix.
